

Participants may already be receiving or be eligible to receive services through various federal, state and community-based programs and/or agencies. Staff shall ensure coordination of each participant's person-centered care plan with other services the participant is receiving. Participants not currently receiving, but potentially eligible for such services shall be referred as appropriate, and the care plan coordinated in an effort to maximize state and federal resources.

The following policies provide a guide in determining potential eligibility for services and the process for care plan coordination.
